

Dem. Group Backs Clara N. Golden

A resolution endorsing the candidacy of Clara N. Golden for Congressional representative from the 17th district has been adopted by the Democratic Volunteers Council, according to Joseph E. Huston, president. Mrs. Golden has been pledged the full support of the Council in the coming campaign.

A speaker for the organization, which is made up of representative citizens of the district, stated "We feel that Mrs. Golden has a background rich with experience and that she fully understands the varied problems of the district. We know that if she is elected, the district will have liberal, progressive, and honest representation during her term of office."

Annual Track Meet at Fern Avenue May 23

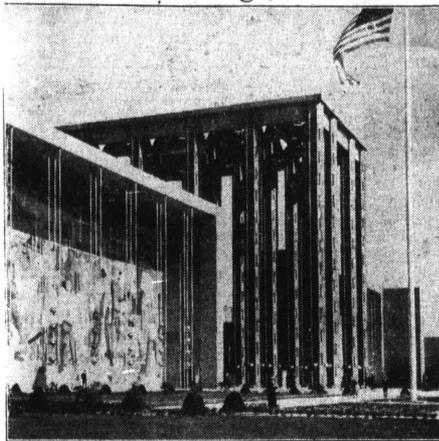

Next Thursday morning, May 23, Fern avenue school will hold its annual track meet on the school grounds. A posture parade will precede the races, starting at 9:15 a. m. Even the kindergartners will have a part in the relay races and every grade will participate as Blues and Golds.

The children are all training for their dashes and relays, and an exciting time is anticipated. Ten boys from Coach Pete Zamperini's Torrance high athletes will assist as officials. Parents and friends of the school are invited to attend. The P. T. A. will sell cup cakes, punch and ice cream.

KERN CANYON HIGHWAY
Sunday, May 19, has been set as the date for dedication of the new Kern Canyon Highway between Kernville and Johnsondale.

Keynote of the 1940 Golden Gate International Exposition will be the Latin-American participation.

Federal Building at S. F. Fair

Dominating the extensive area occupied by the varied Federal exhibits on Treasure Island, which opens May 23 for the 1940 season of the Golden Gate International Exposition, is the towering colossus of the States, flanked by the world's largest murals. Under the direction of Federal Commissioner George Creel, the Federal Area is the scene of many impressive military ceremonies, the welcoming of visiting dignitaries, and the site of highly informative and educational exhibits covering a multitude of governmental activities.

Disney Exhibition of Original Drawings On View at P.V. Library

A comprehensive collection of original Walt Disney drawings is now being shown at the Palos Verdes Art Gallery in the Palos Verdes library. This exhibition, which is well worth seeing and is open to the public during library hours, will be on view until the early part of next month.

Several months ago someone had the inspiration to take some of these "stills" and preserve them for collectors. From 475,000 single drawings made for "Snow White," there were only 7000 suitable for framing, all the others showed the figures too much in action and these of course did not make attractive posters. Out of these 7,000 there are only 800 left. They have been purchased by 20 leading museums from New York to Honolulu.

The subjects in the Arts Association's present collection comprise all the characters of the recent Disney films. There are some of Ferdinand with his flowers; Pinocchio, Jimmie Cricket, and a few little pigs. Of course, the whole contingent of dwarfs is there, too. So far Dopey has won all popularity contests, and surely deserves the title of America's Sweetheart. The Art Gallery is open Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 p. m.

Big Force at Work on Treasure Isle

Seventy-five painters, landscapers, exhibits technicians and laborers are working at full speed in the California State and Counties area on Treasure Island refurbishing that portion of the 1940 Exposition, which will open on May 23.

The contractors now have at work from 25 to 30 painters, half dozen carpenters, 20 landscapers and 20 laborers. These are in addition to the civil service workers in like classifications employed directly by the California Commission.

The buildings are being repainted in brighter hues. Many of the interiors will present a completely different picture than they did last year. The County Buildings in particular are beehives of activity with the various county commissions changing or improving their exhibits.

Six Weeks' Course at Evening School Start Final Stretch Here Now

Six weeks' unit-courses are now beginning for the last stretch in the present school year at the Torrance Evening school. If you are not now a student in this school but would like to be, there is time yet to enroll for the rest of the term. The following fields are covered:
Art crafts, leather, metal and wood; Civil Service preparation, comptometer operation, dress-making and sewing, mechanical drawing and reading of blue prints, physical exercises and games for women, shorthand and typing, voice training and chorus singing and first aid.

A score of pretty girls hope to be official Dumpy Majorette at the 1940 Golden Gate International Exposition, Treasure Island on San Francisco Bay. A contest is being arranged and the lucky winner will lead all special day parades during the period of the Fair in '40.

Local Residents' Ideas on What is An "Ideal Vacation" Has Common Factor: All Want Change in Scenery

Very, very few vacation trips are complete flops but rare is the annual holiday that couldn't have been bettered, made more enjoyable or more restful. On your return from your last vacation you may have said, if you went by car: "Next time I'll go by train." Or, if you traveled by rail: "Next time I'll go by auto and see the places I wanted to see."

Or, if you camped: "Never again I'll stay in a hotel and take it easier!" And hotel-accommodated vacationists may long for the free and easy life of the camper.

What, then, is the "Ideal Vacation?"
In an attempt to get a cross-section of the community opinion on this question The Herald this week queried a number of local residents. Here are their thumbnail interviews:

Frank Garbe, druggist: "My idea of an ideal vacation is to get on a train and travel. Last year my wife and I enjoyed a stay in New Orleans. We'd like to go to the east coast this year, free of all responsibilities that crowd you if you drive."

Boating on Parker Lake
Tom Wilkes, P. E. storekeeper: "I'd go back home to Pittsburg, Pa. by train for 30 days. Train travel is my idea of real sport and I'd like to see all my old pals back east."

Thomas T. Babbitt, school teacher: "A six-weeks' summer school session at Columbia University in New York would be a real vacation for me. I'd go by auto, take in the New York fair and return by way of the Pacific Northwest."

F. M. Krehow, mechanic: "After spending about three weeks on the desert, I'd like to enjoy about six weeks chugging around in a motorboat on Parker Lake. But my wife hates the desert, so the lake vacation would be best."

Mrs. Howard Locke, office worker: "Yosemite for me and I'd like to stay there a couple of weeks. It's lots of fun, hiking, entertainment and drives to interesting places."

Plans Mid-West Trip
Mayor Tom F. McGuire: "Say, I'd jump in the car and take off for Mineral King above Fresno. There I'd build a little fire, chop a little wood, play a little bridge and enjoy life!"

George L. Morton, barber: "A nice cabin high in the mountains for just my wife and myself, located near a trout stream and with not a store in 200 miles—that would be a real vacation! We could stock up enough grub for two weeks and really live!"

Ed Schwartz, clothier: "I'd like to take a month off and drive back to South Dakota, tour Yellowstone park, drive on to Minneapolis and see the Black Hills and some friends in Rapid City. What's more, I may make such a trip next month if everything goes alright."

J. C. Smith, real estate operator: "I've only had one vacation—that was last fall when I went back to the old-home town of Independence, Kansas—in 17 years. Now I'd like to drive up to Seattle. But my wife wants to go to Honolulu."

Keep Old Age Away
Charles Curtiss, Dominguez Land Company: "If possible I'd like to have a car with the top down and just loaf up the Redwood Highway to Portland and Seattle. Then I'd amble down the Columbia River highway and take in Crater Lake and just poke around with no set schedule."

Ed Brunner, creamery office worker: "Believe me, I'd get away from everything—get up in the mountains and wouldn't shave for a month."

Hugh Barnes, secretary: "An 'Ideal Vacation'—that's easy: I'd go up to the northwest by car and stop along the highway and fish. Take my son? Well, I don't know—he's a bit too young to fish yet."

John Shidler, attorney: "Two weeks on the Stanford campus, just calling on some old friends on the Stanford faculty would be perfect for me. There's a beautiful golf course there and a lake and I believe you could keep from getting old."

Back to Old Wyoming
Vernon Coll, fountaineer and new business man: "I'd like to pack in some place up in the mountains and enjoy all the hunting and fishing I've been missing. The best place is far up in the redwoods. I did just that about four years ago, went into Yosemite and had the time of my life."

Vern Babcock, councilman and National Supply worker: "An 'Ideal Vacation' for me would be to go back to the old-home town of Cheyenne, Wyoming. I haven't been there for 20 years. I'd go by auto with my family."

John V. Murray, city councilman: "Vacation? What's that? I've never had a real vacation so I don't know what would be nice except to push off to some trout stream and try for some of the big ones."

Fly Into Back Country
Carl Hyde, tax consultant: I'd hitch up a Cub or Stinson 101 plane, get one of those handy relief maps that Uncle Sam gives away and pick up some high spot landings in the real wild, where you'd be away from the highways and gas tanks and sign boards and hot-dog stands. Boy! that's life!"

Dale Riley, city recreation director: "A real vacation for me would be two weeks hibernation at a cabin in Idyllwild above Hemet. But for those who want to travel and see the wonders of nature and man, I'd advise going to Salt Lake City, Zion National Park, Bryce Canyon and Boulder Dam. That's about 1,600 miles and you could do it nicely in a week."

John Salm, manufacturer: "I've never had a vacation. I've only had four days off in the last 30 years. My enjoyment is to see things produce and help create things. I've just planted 725 more trees on my place in North Torrance and I could enjoy a few days off at home watching things grow."

Rev. Frank Porter, minister: "Well, I'd go by car and I'd see some of our grand country. I've always wanted to see the Grand Canyon, Arizona and the Carlsbad Caverns. A fellow ought to have a month and then he could camp or auto camp—no hotels for me—as long as he wanted where he wanted to."

Treasure Isle's Night Magic

Millions will enter these portals this year. They are the "Elephant Towers" at the main entrance to the Golden Gate International Exposition, on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay. The entire Fair will be painted with light by General Electric.

Get 'Feel' of Roads in Order to Drive Safely

Here's a safe driving tip that's worth remembering:
When you leave one type of pavement for another, try your brakes a couple of times to get the "feel" of the road surface.

Your vehicle reacts differently on various types of pavement, and the above practice, once it becomes a habit, makes driving safer.

Pepsi-Cola Nine Breaks Indians' Win Streak

Rapping out 12 base hits off two pitchers for a 7 to 1 victory, the Pepsi-Cola baseball team abruptly ended the Torrance-Lomita Indians' winning streak by a score of 7 to 1 last Sunday at the Torrance city park diamond. DeHoag and Papke shared hurling duties for the Indians.

Banning Wins Two Meets From Segundo

Banning high school ran up a long lead in early events and went on to whip the El Segundo track team 66 to 38 in a varsity Marine league meet last Friday at Banning. Dick Frey of Banning heaved the shot 51 feet 3 1/2 inches to highlight that event. Banning also won the Class B meet while the Oilers captured the Class C contests.

Dr. Ross Scores Win in First League Game

Poling out 13 base hits, the Dr. Ross baseball team scored their first victory of the new Southwestern league at Santa Monica last Sunday, defeating the home club 9 to 5. Ray Tave took over the pitching assignment from Gilbert Duzich in the fourth inning and allowed but two hits for the remainder of the game.

In the meantime, the Rossmen came from behind with a five-run rally in the fifth and added two more in the sixth and seventh. Eagers paced the winners at bat with three hits in six tries while C. Palica, Clark and John Chuka each rapped out two.

POULTRY MEETING

A meeting on poultry diseases, open to all interested, will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning, May 27, at the P. J. Wittstrom Poultry Farm, 4229 Redondo Beach boulevard, Gardena, located one and one-half miles west of Western avenue.

Candidates Begin Nominating Soon

Names of at least some of the candidates for offices to be filled at the August or November elections are expected to be revealed late this month when nomination papers go into circulation. May 29 is the first day to circulate papers and leave them with the registrar of voters for filing.

Offices to be filled are United States senator, eight representatives in Congress, 30 assemblymen, 15 judges of the superior court, district attorney and supervisor from the second, fourth and fifth districts. Filing fees for the offices are $200 for United States senator, $100 for congressman, $50 for superior court judge, $20 for assemblyman and $10 for district attorney and the same for supervisor.

Also to be elected are 1,260 members of the county central committee, representing the Democratic, Republican, Progressive, Prohibition, Townsend and Communist parties. June 22 is the last day to file the nomination petitions with the registrar of voters for examination and for certification.

INCREASES FATIGUE

Looking through a dirty windshield is more tiring for the touring driver. The same goes for looking through the dirt on the rear window via the rear view mirror.

Twins will have their day at the Golden Gate International Exposition, June 23.
